How Columbus Discovered Honey Nut Cheerios

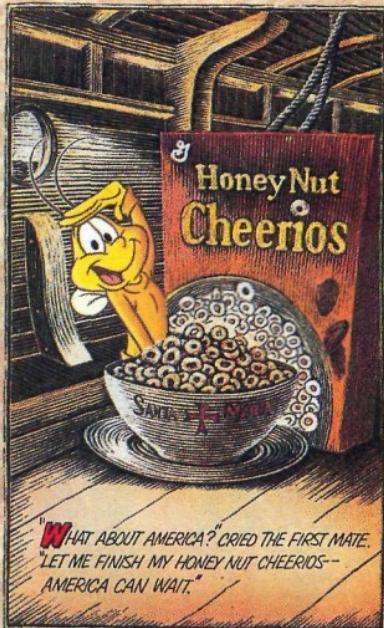

IN FOURTEEN HUNDRED AND NINETY-TWO,
COLUMBUS SAILED THE OCEAN BLUE.
SEEKING A ROUTE TO FAR-WAY LANDS,
UNTIL A CERTAIN BEE CHANGED
ALL OF HIS PLANS.

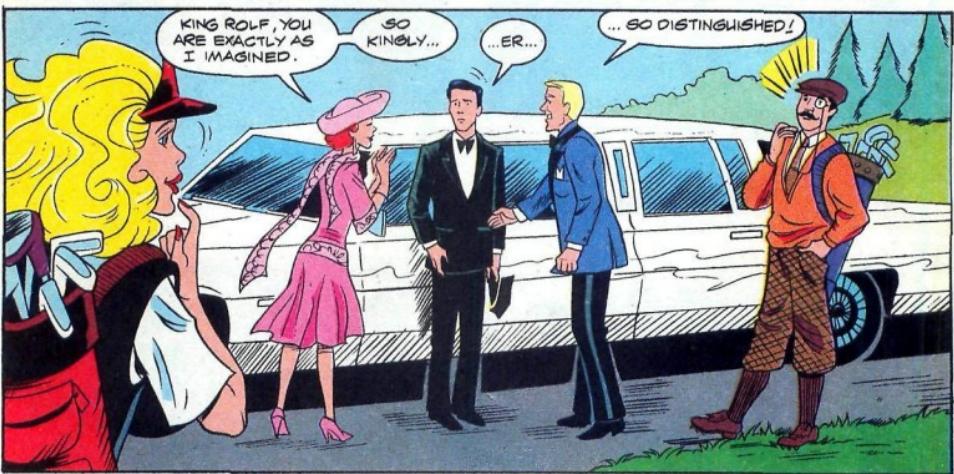

THE BEE CAME UP TO COLUMBUS, THE STORY GOES,
OFFERING HIM A TASTE OF HONEY NUT CHEERIOS.
"GOLDEN HONEY AND CRUNCHY NUTS SOUND YUMMY?"
ASKED THE BEE.
COLUMBUS DECLARED, "HONEY AND NUTS? WOW,
WHAT A GREAT TASTE DISCOVERY!"

THE HONEY AND NUT TASTE WAS SUCH A DELICIOUS DISTRACTION,
HE SAILED ROUND AND ROUND
IN NO CERTAIN DIRECTION.

WHAT ABOUT AMERICA?" CRIED THE FIRST MATE.
"LET ME FINISH MY HONEY NUT CHEERIOS-- AMERICA CAN WAIT."

STAN'S SOAPBOX

Hi, Heroes! Even though Christmas is behind us, big-hearted Marvel still has plenty of goodies in store for you! And here's where your old faithful Soapbox Santa clues you in to two new titles going on sale right now!

You've seen the ads! You've heard the name uttered in whispers! But now it's time to meet the newest, most exotically exciting superstar in the mighty Marvel firmament—the only super hero based on a real-life, flesh-and-blood human being—dazzling, dangerous, deadly—a smoldering, sizzling stick of human dynamite—the one and only NIGHT CAT!

Of course, the cat's manager, Dapper Don Kessler, and I have a somewhat selfish motive for pushing Night Cat's first issue since sneaky artist Denys Cowan actually drew us in as part of the story. Yours truly wrote the script, too, which could possibly change the complexion of the comic book industry for all time to come! But don't let that discourage you—you can always just look at the pictures!

But hey, that's only half the excitement! Our whole blushing' Bullpen is turned on to

I t was a rainy day in New York. The kind of day when you could get wet just by walking outside. The man on the corner was selling umbrellas for five dollars each. I could usually talk him down to three. When I got home, I would throw it on the pile with the 300 other umbrellas I've managed to leave at home every time it rains. It seems to rain a lot in New York. Perhaps it's God's way of trying to give the city an acid bath. Perhaps not. That's not for me to say. Me, I'm just another private eye. They call me Dodge Deadline. . . . Comic Book Detective.

It was a slow day at the office: I was just about to seriously consider calling up that guy on TV who makes the pitch for Apex Technical School. Then he walked in — Tom DeFalco, head honcho over at Marvel Comics. He had a problem, and he needed my help. Last month's Bullpen Bulletins Page had disappeared before it had ever seen print. He wanted me to find it. I took the case. Tom took the six-pack.

I headed uptown to the offices of Marvel Comics. If I was going to learn anything about the missing Bullpen Page, this was the place to do it. My first stop was the office of PUNISHER editor Don Daley.

Don told me he was exhausted—he was still resting up from the New York Runners Club's Midnight Run. That's a run that's held every year, beginning at exactly twelve midnight on New Year's Day. Don also entered the New York Marathon last year for the first time. It seemed like he'd been doing a lot of running lately. Just what exactly was he running from, anyway? I listed Don as a suspect, and moved on.

I stopped by Ralph Macchio's office, and found Ralph's assistant, Mike Heisler, still missing after a mysterious three-month absence. Heisler allegedly is taking some time off to do some freelance lettering; something about owing a debt to his uncle. Funny, I didn't know Heisler's uncle was named "Sam". Another potential suspect.

I stopped in to see Jim Salicrup, but he was so deliriously happy, he couldn't even talk to me, Dodge Deadline. It seemed one of Jim's freelancers, Fred Hembeck, recently had a baby with his lovely wife Lynn. The child was born on August 25th, and named Julie Elizabeth Moss Hembeck. That's a lot of names for a little kid. In his present state, there was no talking to Salicrup, so I made a mental note to track him down later.

I noticed my mental pen was getting low on mental ink, so I made another mental note to stop by a mental store later and pick up some more.

I headed over to see Craig Anderson, Marvel's resident vidiot. Craig gave me the lowdown on the new Silver Surfer home video game from Nintendo, and the Spider-Man home game from Sega-Genesis. Craig added that the Spider-Man hand-held game from Gameboy is also a big, big hit. Craig talked about a potential Spider-Man arcade game, but he seemed to be dodging the real issue. Did Craig know something about the missing Bullpen Page—something he wasn't telling me, Dodge Deadline?

Craig threw me a few names—Jim Starlin, George Perez. I caught them. He said they were working on a project which just might blow the lid off this whole case. But Starlin and Perez were nowhere to be found. Apparently they'd gone into hiding to work on this hush-hush project. All I found about this mystery project was that it involved a dangerous customer by the name of Thanos...as well as almost everybody in the Marvel Universe. Clearly I was on to something big...but that wasn't the case I was working on. I'd have to come back to that some other day; I still hadn't found that Bullpen Page.

Assistant Editor Chris Cooper walked by me, Dodge Deadline, in the hall. I overheard him tell fellow assistant, Len Kaminsky he's never been mentioned in the Bullpen Page before. Len said that made two of them. Hmm—that gives them both motives, but very flimsy ones.

I started snooping around Bob Budiansky's office. But Bob wasn't talking. Neither was his assistant, Tom Brevoort.

Troma Films' wild and wacky world-famous movie idol, TOXIC AVENGER, the super hero who makes Spider-Man seem like a well-adjusted average guy! In fact, we dig it so much that we made a deal with Lovable Lynda Kaufman and the Magnanimous Michael Herz. The big-time movie producers who so unselfishly unleashed ol' Toxie on a defenseless public, a deal to publish his sensational screwy adventures in our maniacal style!

Be forewarned: Toxie is not your usual hero! In fact, he's not your usual anything. But this you can count on—NIGHT CAT and THE TOXIC AVENGER may turn out to be the most unexpected hits of '91, and, thanks to my legendary generosity, you're the first to hear of them!

Now, till next iss, wherever you go, whatever you do, think Marvel! (Instead of cluttering your mind with non-essentials!) Excelsior!

All I could get out of them was that they're doing a newsstand reprint of the four-issue DEATHLOK Limited Series, and working on the 1991 Marvel trading cards.

That was all well and good, but it didn't solve my case. I paid a visit to Epic Editor Marcus McLaurin, who was happy as a clamback about the fourth anniversary of the Comic Illustrators Guild at the Pratt School of Art and Design. It seems Marcus formed the club while in his senior year at the school, to pave the way for future generations of artists to get away with drawing comics in class:

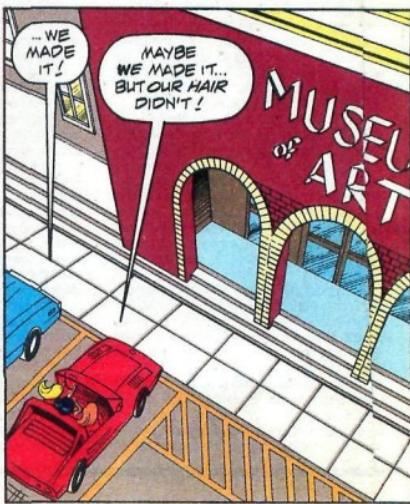

He's one sharp cucumber, that Marcus, but no Bullpen Page-napper. Next I noticed his assistant, Marie Jarvis. Marie's wall is decorated with drawings of cows by some of the biggest names in comics. But Marie threatened to take down her Wall of Bountiful Bovines if she received no new submissions soon. Would Marie's wall come tumbling down? Unfortunately, I couldn't stick around to find out.

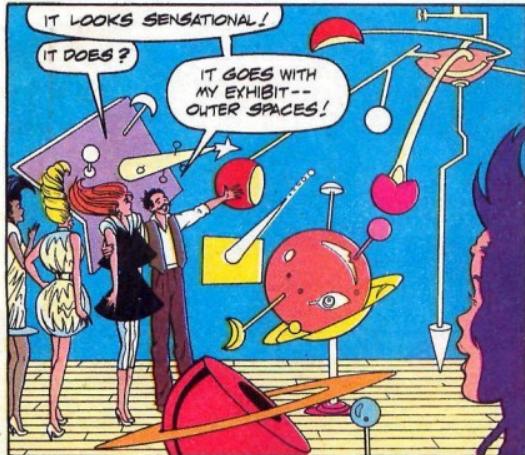

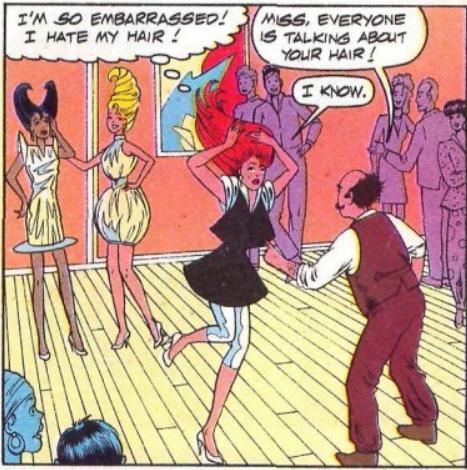

I could've pumped people at Marvel for answers all day, but I was cruising in the fast lane to nowhere. Everyone was a potential suspect. I decided I would switch tactics.

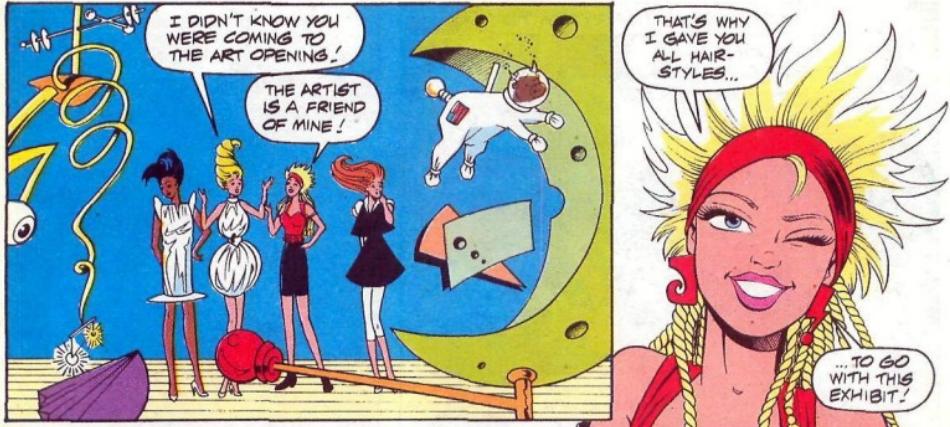

I charmed my way into Marvel's master computer file. If there was any trace left of the Bullpen Page, I knew I would find it here. I punched up the file, and there it was—the December Bullpen Page. It was just full of all kinds of incriminating evidence about the Marvel staff. If this thing ever saw print, it would destroy several careers, a couple marriages, and the noon trade at Slappy Sam's Eat 'n' Run. No wonder someone tried to suppress it. This thing was hotter than a jalapeno pepper in a sauna.

I decided to take the disc to DeFalco. If anyone knew I had this disc, I could start etching my own epitaph. Just then, I felt the cold steel of the barrel of a .45 press against the back of my neck...

IS THIS THE END OF DODGE DEADLINE? YOU WISH.

MY HEART SKIPS A BEAT,
WHEN YOU'RE NEAR--

HI ANTONY! WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

OH, HI ARIA! I CAN'T AFFORD A PRESENT SO I'M THINKING OF A POEM FOR CORNELIA'S SWEET XVII PARTY.

A POEM?

DO YOU THINK CORNELIA WILL APPRECIATE A POEM?

OH YES! ON THE OUTSIDE SHE MAY SEEM SELFISH, MATERIALISTIC, EGOTISTICAL AND VAIN, BUT ON THE INSIDE SHE'S GOT A HEART OF GOLD!

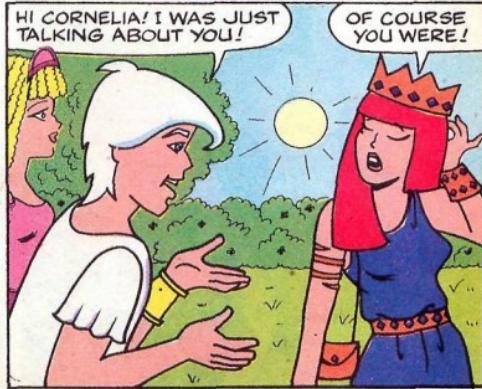

CORNELIA? A HEART OF GOLD?

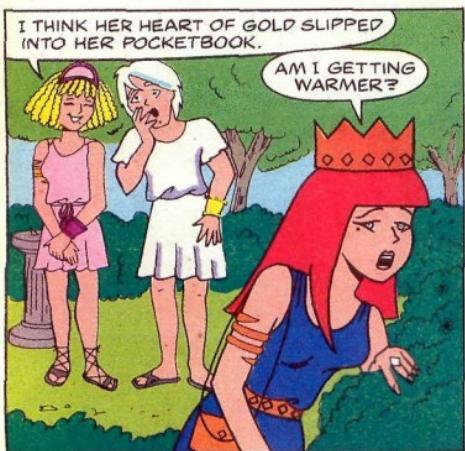

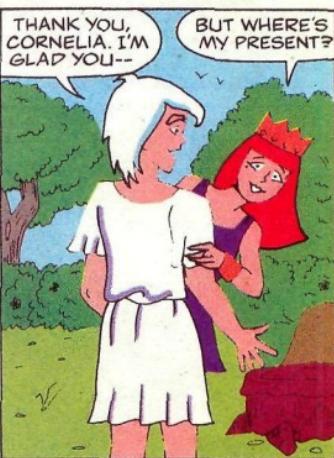

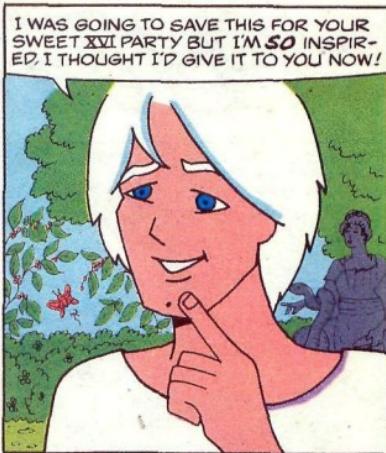

HI! WHAT'S HAPPENING?

HI CORNELIA! I WAS JUST TALKING ABOUT YOU!

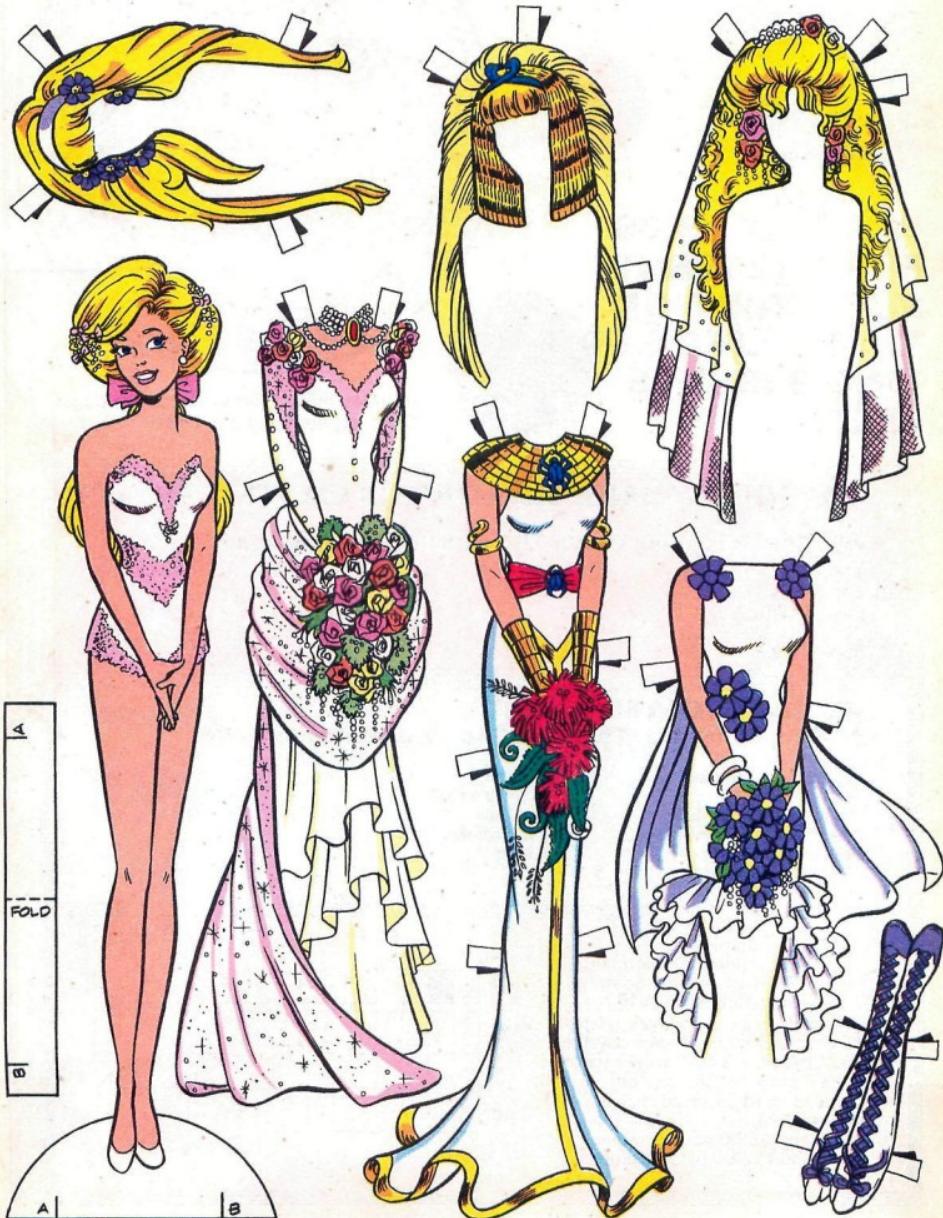

OF COURSE YOU WERE!
